Continuation of 5. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Applicant has argued that the Hsu reference (US Patent No. 6,587,684) fails to anticipate independent claims 1, 9, and 17. Specifically, Applicant has alleged that the Hsu reference teaches the provisioning server receiving IP packet payloads encrypted by the digital telephone and not by a first controller as recited in claims 1, 9, and 17. Examiner respectfully disagrees with this assertion. Examiner contends that as claimed, the first controller is not precluded from being embodied within the unprovisioned mobile station (see claim 1 line 6). As such, Examiner contends that Hsu does teach the aforementioned limitation in that Hsu teaches a first controller ("application layer" - see column 15 lines 35-36) encrypting IP packet payloads that are received by the provisioning server ("provisioning server" see column 15 lines 35-40).
